

LipSync Connect Feature List (Version 1.0)

Main Features

1. The ability to automatically detect LipSync model and offer list of features for that specific LipSync model once the USB connection is established.
2. The ability to retrieve and display the current LipSync model number.
3. An option to retrieve and display the current LipSync version number.
4. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync cursor speed level.
5. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync Sip and Puff pressure threshold value.
6. An option to retrieve and display the current LipSync Sip and Puff pressure value.
7. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync rotation angle. Not Implemented
8. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync debug mode state (Enabled or Disabled)
9. An option to display and share LipSync log data (Example : email FSR values)
10. The ability to display the existing natural FSR values stored during initialization process, and the ability to perform FSR initialization process.
11. The ability to display the existing max FSR values stored during calibration process, and the ability to start the FSR calibration process.
12. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync tolerance values. Not Implemented
13. The ability to display the existing button mappings of Sip and puff actions, and the ability to update/ reconfigure the button mappings of Sip and puff actions.
14. Options to perform soft reset and factory reset.
15. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync deadzone values. (LipSync Gaming and LipSync Macro)
16. The ability to display the HID Bluetooth configuration modes, and the ability to start the Bluetooth configuration process. (LipSync Wireless and LipSync Macro)
17. A help page with simple instructions on how to use the application.

Future Features

In Scope for this version

1. Display Raw X and Y joystick values in a dual axis live plot using raw mode.
2. An option to retrieve, display, and update the current LipSync raw mode state (Enabled or Disabled)

3. A troubleshooting page to suggest common troubleshooting tips.

Out of Scope for this version

1. Store the button mappings and other settings as a profile and share the profiles.
2. Notification for LipSync firmware update.
3. Display LipSync user guides
4. Voice assistant integration
5. QR code reader